

The Ending Cancer in Our Generation Foundation Board Member Handbook

<Established 2014>

Our History

The Ending Cancer in Our Generation Foundation began in late 2009-early 2010, with a formal filing and determination in 2011. Since our founding we have strived to become a more interactive and engaging nonprofit. We have branched out our fundraising and awareness events and in 2013 we awarded two art scholarships (the Ram Scholarship for the Arts) and in 2014 we will form our formal art community. Our board needs to possess this same drive to grow, expand and push our mission and it is with that goal that this board member handbook is drawn. Being a board member is a great responsibility, you have the heart and soul of an organization at your fingertips and your drive and dedication help form that nonprofit into greatness. Each board member contributes talent, expertise and skills that are unique to that member. We hope that after reading our handbook and checking out our website, you will want to become a member of our ever growing board of directors, we would love to have you.

Why are you important to our organization?

Being a part of a board of directors gives the unique ability to help shape a nonprofit. While it can seem overwhelming at first we will break down our goals as a nonprofit and what exactly we expect from our board members. Our success is based on the progress towards and achievement of our mission and goals as an organization.

Our Mission

Our mission is to create an online community where anyone touched by cancer can share their experience through their varying art forms. The larger mission is to promote survivorship and life after cancer diagnosis and treatment and to end the control that cancer has on our lives.

Our Vision

Our Vision is to be a resource and community for anyone who has been touched by cancer

Our Goal

Our goal is to make sure that no one is left in the dark on any topic or any issue through connections in art as well as connecting in an online community. That there is a place to share art with others who are around the world. We are also dedicated to providing at least one art scholarship a year to a deserving young adult cancer survivor

What's In A Name?

You may be wondering what an art community has to do with ending cancer? Well, you would be right to wonder. Our name came from the title of the first benefit put together before we were a charity, we donated a portion of the money we made to young adult cancer charities, including ones that were fighting cancer. Since we were not a charity yet, the rest of the money went to building Jetty's Brain Book, which is now our sister site. This site is where you can find a lot of resources for fighting cancer and for surviving after your diagnosis. The phrase ending cancer in our generation is a play on words, as we want to end cancer in our lifetime but also in our age group. While we do not actively spend money on research, we are supportive of other charities who are working to find a cure. Our mission is to promote survivorship or life after remission. As Stupid Cancer (I'm Too Young for This Foundation) founder Matthew Zachery best put it "Cancer survivorship is an art; and the art of your survivorship is how you choose to get busy living." We at the Ending Cancer in Our Generation Foundation are promoting the actual art and creativity that can aid in both recovery as well as pushing forward after remission. We hope that if our mission rings true in your journey that you will join our community or in our mission today. Remission is not the end; the sunshine, lollipop and rainbow vision some imagine it as. Side effects can stay long after that point and for many even remission is not a calming word. In this community, we all understand that life doesn't magically return to normal after remission and we are here to support your creative endeavors as you make that journey. We are a community that is open to all. We understand completely that it is not only the person who is diagnosed that suffers, worries, and feels pain during this time. It is the caregivers, the friends, the family members, everyone is affected by cancer in different ways and this is your place to talk, share and interact through that time. This is a safe community where no one's journey is more important, or justified than another's. We are a community of respect and appreciation of both creativity and strength. We hope to one day be the place where everyone can go to share and grow through art and creative expression until one day there will be an end to cancer in our generation. If you have any questions at all about our mission, goals, or anything really, feel free to email us. We are happy to answer anything you may be wondering.

What are your responsibilities as a Board Member?

Uphold and Rework as necessary our Mission and Goals

By far the most important role of a board member is to verify that the mission of our organization is on cue and up to date. It is vital that opinions be shared freely and every action we take should be weighed against our mission and goals as an organization.

Evaluate and Address Management Placement and Conduct

While the board is not responsible for managing the daily work flow and activities of the organization, they are responsible for making sure that the people chosen to complete these activities are maintaining the mission and working to keep the organization the right track. This would include staying informed and asking questions about the organization and how it is functioning.

Be Our Window to the Outside World and Our Messenger

Our board members bring their views, experience and skills to our internal organization and at the same time bring out our mission, goals and experiences to the outside world. This back and forth harmonious relationship is what drives our organization. You will represent both your world view to us and our organization to the world. You will actively help to push our mission and goals including fundraising and awareness campaigns and you will simultaneously bring with you ideas and skills to make our organization run more effectively to match the outside world.

Be Our Protector

We place great faith in our board members to safeguard our organization from external threats, including but not limited to scandals involving our organization. A board member is a defender and protector of our organization. They stand up for us when trouble arises.

Financial Responsibility

Our board has a financial responsibility that is deeper than raising funds for our organization. Each board member is responsible for evaluating and approving fundraising events and keep the organization on the right track with our budget. Every board member has a financial responsibility of $1000 annually for our organization. This can be achieved in many different manners including holding fundraising events, donating time or money, or connecting the organization with other financial backers to fill in the requirement annually.

Now that you have seen a roughbreak down of what our board members do, here is a board member specific breakdown of duties.

Your job as a member of our board will be 6 fold. The duties can be broken down as follows:

1. Attend all meetings

We understand that sometimes life can get in the way of achieving what you desire. However, we would prefer our board members to attempt to make it to every meeting if at all possible. We will meet twice a month. Our meetings are held strictly online through Yahoo Messenger but this could change as new technological option become available. So, to be on our board you must have a Yahoo Messenger account and Messenger installed on your computer. You will need to attend at least half of the meetings and if you are unable to attend all the meeting, you will be required to comment on the board meeting minutes of ALL meeting. No excuses accepted.

2. Be prepared and informed

We will do our best to post an agenda for the next meeting in the board member group at least a few days before the meeting. Please take the time to read it and come prepared to the meeting with questions, suggestions or insight into the topics at hand. Even if you feel that you are not the best judge of the topic, we value your opinions.

3. Speak your mind and ask hard questions

Nothing can be accomplished by blind agreement. Make your voice heard and do not be afraid to disagree with the group. Disagreement makes us work harder and strive for more acceptable solutions.

4. Evaluate Everything

Take the time to make sure you are comfortable with the amount of work all board members are doing. Be critical of the effectiveness of the board and if you see an issue, speak up. Watch how funds are used and make sure that the financial sector of our organization is being completed in a manner than matches our mission and goals.

5. Be a Part of a Committee

We have several committees that handle different key elements of our organization. To be a more integrated part of our team, you will need to participate in at least one committee during the fiscal year.

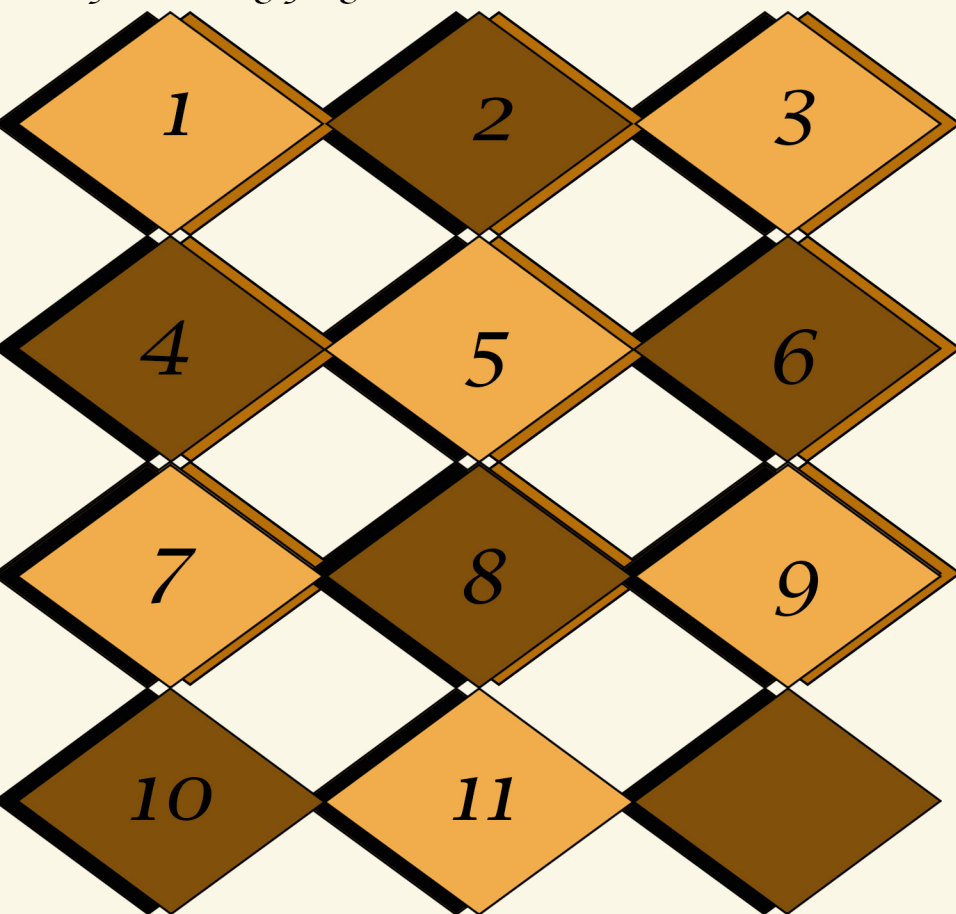

6. Make the Goals and Mission of the organization A Priority

Along with the fundraising requirement ($1000 annually), it is important that the mission and goals of our organization be a part of your life. We rely on our board members to help spread our message and make more people aware of our little organization. If you choose to become a member of our board you will need to show dedication to helping us achieve our goals and push our mission.

Only six areas of responsibility and yet you can make a major difference in our organization!

Documentation and Policies

A Board member is a vital member of our organization. You will be the link between the inner workings and the general public that we represent. We are a 501 (c)(3) charity which means we answer directly to the public that supports us. In this vein, we as a whole are held legally and ethically accountable for all of our actions and our inactions of our organization. Our reputation and good name are our most crucial asset. We need to strive to live up to the expectations of our supporters. In order to maintain this strict level of we have compiled several standard documents including a Conflict of interest (and disclosure), a Whistleblower Policy and a strict Code of Ethics, these determine the controlling, administering and planning the use of the resources we receive. Before agreeing to join our board, please take a moment to read over the following pages.

What does 501 (c)(3) Status Mean?

Our nonprofit status (501 (c)(3)) is a strictly regulated and monitored status. In order to be tax-exempt under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, an organization must be organized and operated exclusively for exempt purposes set forth in section 501(c)(3), and none of its earnings may inure to any private shareholder or individual. This means that all the money that we raise is to be used solely for our mission and towards the benefit of the public. In addition, we may not be an action organization, i.e., we may not attempt to influence legislation as a substantial part of our activities and we may not participate in any campaign activity for or against political candidates. With these guidelines we are allowed to accept donations tax free in accordance with Code section 170. Board members need to monitor finances to verify that all allocated funds are being used in accordance with the 501 (c)(3) regulations.

Dear Applicant:

We are pleased to inform you that upon review of your application for tax exempt status we have determined that you are exempt from Federal income tax under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. Contributions to you are deductible under section 170 of the Code. You are also qualified to receive tax deductible bequests, devises, transfers or gifts under section 2055, 2106 or 2522 of the Code. Because this letter could help resolve any questions regarding your exempt status, you should keep it in your permanent records.

Organizations exempt under section 501(c)(3) of the Code are further classified as either public charities or private foundations. We determined that you are a public charity under the Code section(s) listed in the heading of this letter.

Please see enclosed Publication 4221-PC, Compliance Guide for 501(c)(3) Public Charities, for some helpful information about your responsibilities as an exempt organization.

Sincerely,

Lois G. Lerner
Director, Exempt Organizations

The Ending Cancer in Our Generation Foundation Whistleblower Policy

General

The Organization's Code of Ethics and Conduct ("Code") required directors, officers and employees to observe high standards of business and personal ethics in the conduct of their duties and responsibilities. As employees and representatives of the Organization, we must practice honesty and integrity in fulfilling our responsibilities and comply with all applicable laws and regulations.

Reporting Responsibility

It is the responsibility of all directors, officers and employees to comply with the Code and to report violations or suspected violations in accordance with the Whistleblower Policy.

No Retaliation

No director, officer or employee who in good faith reports a violation of the Code shall suffer harassment, retaliation or adverse employment consequence. An employee who retaliates against someone who has reported a violation in good faith is subject to discipline up to and including termination of employment. This Whistleblower Policy is intended to encourage and enable employees and others to raise serious concerns within the Organization prior to seeking resolution outside the Organization.

Reporting Violations

The Code addresses the Organization's open door policy and suggests that employees share their questions, concerns, suggestions or complaints with someone who can address them properly. In most cases, an employee's supervisor is in the best position to address an area of concern. However, if you are not comfortable speaking with your supervisor or you are not satisfied with your supervisor's response, you are encouraged to speak with someone in the Human Resources Department or anyone in management whom you are comfortable in approaching. Supervisors and managers are required to report suspected violations of the Code of Conduct to the Organization's Compliance Officer, who has specific and exclusive responsibility to investigate all reported violations. For suspected fraud, or when you are not satisfied or uncomfortable with following the Organization's open door policy, individuals should contact the Organization's Compliance Officer directly.

Compliance Officer

The Organization's Compliance Officer is responsible for investigating and resolving all reported complaints and allegations concerning violations of the Code and, at his discretion, shall advise the Executive Director and/or the audit committee. The Compliance Officer has direct access to the audit committee of the board of directors and is required to report to the audit committee at least annually on compliance activity. The Organization's Compliance Officer is the chair of the audit committee.

Accounting and Auditing Matters

The audit committee of the board of directors shall address all reported concerns or complaints regarding corporate accounting practices, internal controls or auditing. The Compliance Officer shall immediately notify the audit committee of any such complaint and work with the committee until the matter is resolved.

Acting in Good Faith

Anyone filing a complaint concerning a violation or suspected violation of the Code must be acting in good faith and have reasonable grounds for believing the information disclosed indicates a violation of the Code. Any allegations that prove not to be substantiated and which prove to have been made maliciously or knowingly to be false will be viewed as a serious disciplinary offense.

Confidentiality

Violations or suspected violations may be submitted on a confidential basis by the complainant or may be submitted anonymously. Reports of violations or suspected violations will be kept confidential to the extent possible, consistent with the need to conduct an adequate investigation.

Handling of Reported Violations

The Compliance Officer will notify the sender and acknowledge receipt of the reported violation or suspected violation within five business days. All reports will be promptly investigated and appropriate corrective action will be taken if warranted by the investigation.

Rules About Expense Forms and Reimbursement

We understand that with the duty of being a board member comes with a financial responsibility that is difficult for many, we also understand that we are a very small charity with a very small budget every year. That is why when serving on our board we have an open expense and reimbursement policy. With each new year a new $1,000 financial requirement is upheld by board members. However, with a below filled in expense form, any approved costs can be deducted from this total. For instance, if a board member makes a purchase, with a provided receipt, the total cost will be deducted. If a board member would like to be reimbursed for a purchase it must be approved in advance by the board of directors.

Date of Purchase	Name	Description of Donation	Fair Market Value

We take into account all purchases and will view every submitted form. Please understand that any unrelated costs will be denied and no adjustment will be made.

Tentative Calendar

Although our meetings are scheduled to happen the first and third Saturday of the month, this has proven to be a more difficult than in our founding year. All of our board members have jobs, attend school, or do both. We understand this means that schedules change so we are now very open with our meeting schedule. However, we try to have them every two weeks, but we also have meetings more often if needed. Currently we have the following event dates Set in Stone.

Meeting Scheduled Jan 18th, 2014 <Every Two weeks After >	Fundraiser Dinner April 5th, 2014 5:00 PM	Spring Fundraiser May 3rd 2014 2PM	Annual Benefit September 2014 <Month Long>	More to be Announced Soon!

BOARD MEETING
TIME!

And Now a Quick Recap!

The board as a whole has 6 main responsibilities which are broken down as

1. Attend all meetings
2. Be prepared and informed
3. Speak your mind and ask hard questions
4. Evaluate Everything
5. Be a Part of a Committee
6. Make the Goals and Mission of the organization a priority

You will be directly responsible for determining our future goals and actions. You will be responsible for determining how leadership should be established, how we will raise the funds to continue our mission and which direction we will go as an organization. It requires dedication and commitment to our organization. In particular the areas of:

- 📌 Upholding and Reworking as necessary our Mission and Goals
- 📌 Evaluating and Addressing Board Member Placement and Conduct
- 📌 Being Our Window to the Outside World and Our Messenger From Within
- 📌 Being Our Protector &
- 📌 Generating Your Financial Responsibility

If you feel you can meet these needs then we would love to have you join our board of directors. If you have any questions, please contact us at
